Ecology Committee Preparing Area Land Use Study

By Mary Anna Jackson

A land use planning committee of Dr. Martin Wanielista's "Man and Environment" class is searching the county to obtain information for a report to be released next month. A few of the findings uncovered by the committee thus far include such tidbits as the following:

The Winter Park area has nearly double the national per capita average of solid waste disposal;

On the corner of Gatlin Avenue and Ferncreek in Orlando stands an historical marker commemorating the Council Oak, a Seminole Indian meeting place, and

Some environmentalists consider the period from 1880 to 1895, when the logging industry began in Central Florida, to be the beginning of Orange County's environmental problems.

The committee, composed of 28 students, has been preparing the report on present and future uses of land in Orange County. The report will include the group's recommendations for land use planning in the area.

One result of the committee's study will be a map of Central Florida showing areas already developed, areas proposed for development and areas recommended for particular uses - or non-uses, as the case may be.

The map, now in the production stages, will present a graphic description of existing and proposed situations in Orange County. Lakes have been marked according to the amount of "life" left in them, blue for living lakes and a brown overlay indicating eutrophied (dead) lakes.

Transportation routes such as

the proposed east-west expressway, the inter-county beltline and the county beltline, which includes part of SR 436, have been outlined in green, yellow and red, respectively.

Dots of gold, green, yellow and blue indicate locations of historical sites, solid waste disposal areas, waste water treatment plants and water treatment plants, respectively.

Students Clarabelle Haller, Bill Fricke and Charles Neale, project director, have also included triangles of green and gold, green yellow and plain green to indicate parks and recreational sites. Land for the recently-approved Turkey Lake project has been indicated by a green and gold triangle with a red dot.

Among other areas to be noted on the overlays will be locations of area schools to illustrate the section of the final report devoted to an examination of the school situation.

According to preliminary findings in the education phase of the report, a combination of future taxes and further construction of needed facilities may provide adequate employment for teachers now being graduated from area colleges and universities, particularly FTU. This quarter the College of Education will graduate more than 70 students.

FTU and its importance in the community will be considered under the topic of housing and urban environment. It has been ranked as an 'influential area' along with the Orlando Naval Training Center and Walt Disney World.

Other areas of concern are the present urban environment, the impact of Disney World on the economy, the population and surrounding land, a history of the Orange County area, and waste, water and air - the present situation in relation to pollution control.

FTU Area To Be 'Model Community'

FTU will likely become the center of a model community, as evidenced by the rapidly increasing number of student-oriented housing developments currently being planned and constructed in the surrounding area.

A total of eight apartment complexes, mobile home parks and housing subdivisions, which will make available thousands of dwelling units to FTU faculty, staff and students, are currently in the planning or construction stages by various local developers.

FTU on-campus housing will not be placed on a competitive basis as a result of the boom in construction, according to T. K. Wetherell, director of housing. "The residence halls and the off-campus developments attract different segments of the university population," said Wetherell.

He also said that the off-campus units will reduce the turnover rate in the dorms because students will have the opportunity to research both types of living before they make a final decision.

The housing office has and will continue to maintain a listing of off-campus housing available to students on file. "We will serve more or less as a referral service," said Wetherell.

Dormitory building is presently at a statewide standstill and recent consensus of the Board of Regents members indicates that there may be a permanent moratorium on nonacademic construction, such as residence halls.

According to Wetherell, "the trend will be directed toward refinement and improvement of older dormitories."

FTU will probably always maintain a limited number of dorms and "there are no plans to gradually phase out the present halls or build more," Wetherell added.

Due to the shortage of on-campus housing, an ever-increasing number of FTU students are expected to seek housing off campus. As a result, area developers are planning to stress construction of apartment units first to meet the soon-to-be critical need for student housing.

According to a recent article in the Orlando Sentinel, after these first priority needs are met, the various developers intend to begin work on patio houses, condominiums and single family dwellings.

THANKSGIVING DRIVE

FTU's Black Student Union is planning to bring food to 250 needy families in the Central Florida area through a canned food drive to aid families who do not have food for Thanksgiving Day.

BSU representatives said the group will appreciate any donation, whether food or money. They will be asking for donations from businesses, students and faculty. Boxes for donations will be placed in every building on campus with the exception of the Administration Building.

The Black Student Union has a membership of 50 students. Each student will select five deserving families in his area to receive food.

Supervisor To Register FTU Voters

As part of an effort to register as many eligible voters in Orange County as possible, representatives from the Orange County supervisor of elections office will be on campus Tuesday and Wednesday.

The FTU registration program is being coordinated by Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity with the backing of Student Government.

Dixie Barber, Orange County supervisor of elections, has indicated she will send three clerks to FTU for the two days of registration. Registration of students will take place in the lobby of the Library Building.

Wayne Leland, president of Lambda Chi Alpha, said, "We want to inspire the students to vote and help make their mark on the community. It has been said that FTU students are apathetic, but we believe that our students can rally behind some issues that affect us directly."

A NOVEL river bank art marathon, designated Marathon Scorpio, was undertaken recently by Art Chairman Steven Lotz (right) and Dr. Walter Gaudnek (left). The two cocreated a pair of 12-foot-square canvases which were mounted on two small boats and sailed across the Indian River near New Smyrna Beach.

Early Registration To Begin Tuesday

Advance registration for winter quarter will begin Tuesday, and Registrar W. Dan Chapman has requested students to be advised before their appointment times. Advisement forms are now available in the Administration Building lobby near the records counter. Advisement will begin Monday.

Advance registration will be held in the lobby of the Library Building and in LR 108, the weightlifting room. The south entrance to the library will be blocked off during the preregistration days and students are requested to use the north entrance only.

Registration times are set for 9:30 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, with a late period Friday from 5 to 7 p.m. for students who are unable to keep their assigned appointment times.

Students admitted to Master's programs may obtain their trial schedules and upon advisement, they will be considered registered. They need not go through registration.

Post-baccalaureate students may be advised, but they may not register until regular registration, 8:30 to 9 a.m. January 3.

The deadline for all fees will be January 7, and all fees not paid by then will result in cancellation of the student's registration. If a student who advance registers does not receive his class registration and fee assessment notice within two weeks, there will be a duplicate copy in the cashier's office. He may pay his fees and receive the class registration from the cashier.

Students who advance register but are subsequently disqualified or excluded and who have paid their fees will have their money refunded within the first four weeks of winter quarter.

Students receiving financial aid must take their class registration and fee assessment forms to the financial aid office, AD 266, to obtain their checks to be presented to the cashier.

Students receiving assistance from vocational rehabilitation must report to the cashier with their registration and assessment forms as soon as the forms are received, in order to insure registration.

Regular registration be held January 3 and 4.

Debate Team Scores Wins

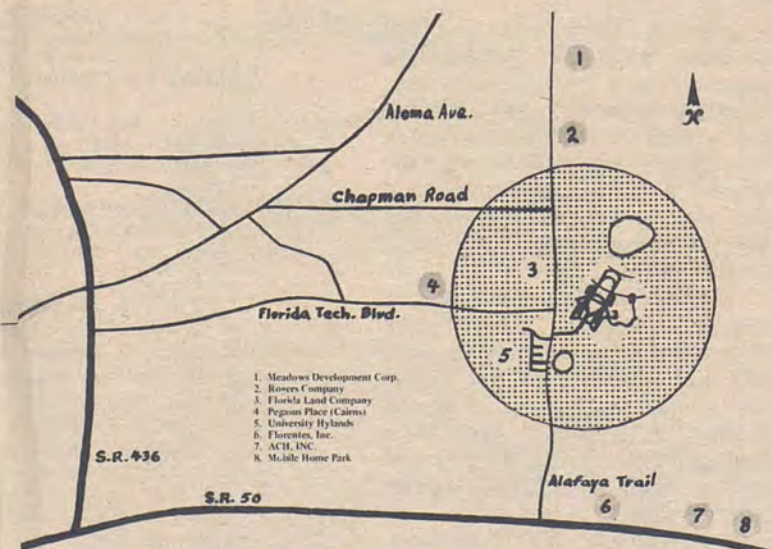

FTU's debate team tested its mettle against the finest debaters in the United States last weekend at Emory University in Atlanta.

Two teams from FTU were entered in the tournament, and each team scored three wins and five losses. A total of 150 teams had been entered.

Earl Boyles and Jack Haight, comprising one team, defeated the University of Nebraska, of North Carolina and Georgia State, while losing to teams like the University of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh University and Stanford University.

Jeff Ringer and Dave Larkin, both freshmen, also scored three wins and five losses while debating against senior debaters from schools such as Ohio State, Michigan State and University of Richmond.

The team's next tournament will be at the University of Florida at Gainesville on November 19 and 20.

FTU is shown here to be the center (near center of large circle) of an ever-increasing number of planned construction projects. The projects, which now number eight, and more that are likely to come may make the campus the nucleus of a 30,000-person community of the future.

FuTure Editorials

Now Is The Time.....

A variety of problems plague the average college student in the area of scheduling time needed to accomplish the many things that must be done. One of the main hassles is that the student spends too much time doing those things he has to do (reading, studying, term paper research) to allow sufficient time for those things he wants to do or should do.

Such as registering to vote and actually casting a ballot.

NO ONE can really help in the actual voting process. You either want to or you don't, and you either provide or don't provide for the necessary time.

But registration is another matter. Understanding the "battle against time," Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity is sponsoring a "bring the registration to the people" campaign, designed to get students on the voting rolls.

Representatives from Elections Supervisor Dixie Barber's office will be on campus Tuesday and Wednesday to register students. They are providing an opportunity, a privilege and a responsibility.

THE OPPORTUNITY lies in the fact that these people are attempting to make registration easier for the students. The privilege and the responsibility belong to the student. One cannot be forced to register and vote, but considering the clamor for the youth vote in the past few years, one would expect overflowing lines at both the downtown offices and at Tuesday's registration campaign.

As college students, the 18-20-year-old segment would be expected to be just that much more interested in securing the privilege of voting and living up to the responsibility that goes along with it. The university segment is generally better informed and more prone to become involved in politics than his working counterpart. But only time will tell.

It will probably take about five minutes to obtain the opportunity to help determine this country's political future. The 1972 political year will prove to be a pretty dull one if, after weighing all sides of a question, you can't even make a choice.

And this time, it won't be because you're not allowed to.

Letters To The Editor

Spirit Needed

Dear Editor:

In reference to the article in last week's edition of the FuTure, "Soccer May Discontinue, Fate of Team Decided Today." The line "As far as cheerleaders go, this writer has not seen one since last spring" was justifiably taken as a direct insult by the present cheerleaders.

It seems that the sports people are already down on the cheerleaders before the basketball season has even started! Let me explain that the cheerleaders' purpose is for basketball and that we can and intend to cheer for any other sports which we are available for. If Mr. Gordon, the author of the article, expects us to cheer for soccer, I suppose we are also supposed to cheer for water polo, tennis and even ping pong tournaments. If this is his idea, he is grossly mistaken.

Perhaps Mr. Gordon would like to know why he hasn't seen any cheerleaders in action yet. So far the cheerleaders have no uniforms, no megaphones and no shakers. Nothing! With basketball season only three weeks away, these uniforms are being held at Denmark Sporting Goods until Asst. Vice President Brown signs a release for the money to pay for them.

As to whether the cheerleaders have practiced - just ask one. They will tell you that they practiced two nights a week during the summer and presently are practicing two and a half hours a week. And Mr. Gordon asks where the cheerleaders have been!

The fact that Mr. Gordon is displeased with the cheerleaders brings to mind one of the things which need to be remedied here at FTU. Apathy! Perhaps the fact that the basic student is apathetic should not be brought to the fan by saying, "We are apathetic." Rather, we should publicize the fact that "We are enthusiastic!" In other words, take a positive attitude.

So we are asking Mr. Gordon's help in taking a positive attitude by pushing enthusiasm and talking up the cheerleaders.

Eileen Brennan

Note: In my (John Gordon) opinion, uniforms and pom poms do not make the professional cheerleader. Private and individual practice is fine but should not be a substitute for the field screaming.

The cheerleaders are not asked to attend EVERY sports function. There are so many intramural games that this would be an impossibility. However, in sports events where one school plays another, I believe that some sort of school support should be represented on the sidelines.

I did not mean to insult the cheerleaders but meant to point out that regardless of the reason, the cheerleaders have not been seen at any intercollegiate team sport so far this year.

Letters To The Editor

Save Soccer

Dear Editor:

I certainly hope that FTU does not officially discontinue playing soccer. As most people in the civilized world--except Americans--know, soccer is the international team sport. As an athletic sport, it far surpasses American football. The players on varsity soccer teams are athletes in the truest sense of the word. Not so for many of the players on American football teams.

Also, it is time the U.S. joined the world. Such things as adopting the metric system, riding bicycles and playing soccer are all ways of doing this. Soccer dominates sports in Europe, the Soviet Union and South America. If this university wants to make foreign students feel at home, it should certainly continue to have a varsity soccer team. The more things we have in common with other nations, the better our understanding of them and vice versa.

It is disheartening to think that a modern university like FTU has been infiltrated by students who, through their passive behavior, reject every and any attempt to broaden their limited spectrum of interests.

Genre - Based Courses Offered In Literature

"All things come to him who waits," and students who have been waiting for special genre-oriented English courses will have to wait no longer than winter quarter. These courses, designed to appeal to those who feel literature is the most intimate of man's expressions of self, have no prerequisites and are open to all students.

"Love Poetry from Dante to Donne," ENG 491.03, will be taught by Gerald Schiffhorst. The course is a study of serious and comic dimensions of love as expressed in selected major poetry of England and the Continent through the age of Shakespeare. Among topics to be discussed are the woman in the sonnet sequences, Neo-platonic theories of love and the uses of eroticism in Marlowe, Spenser and Shakespeare.

Mrs. Beth Barnes will teach "The Role of Woman in the Literature of Man," ENG 491.01. This course is an investigation of the attitudes toward women in literature prior to the neo-feminist movement. Selections will range from such works and authors as the Bible to Shakespeare to Albee, Freidan and contemporary men's magazines.

ENG 491.02, "Poetry as Vision," will be taught by Mrs. Norman Maness, and will be an exploration of the prophetic role of poetry in diluvian (great flood) mythic ritual and its historical modifications. Study will include the magic songs of Finno-Ugric and Siberian shamanism, prayers of ancient Tartary, bardic songs of the Celts and Druids, and selections from the Romantic poets.

The Coffeehouse will open at 8 p.m., since there will be no movie, and will last until midnight.

LIBRARY HOURS

Library hours will be extended one hour, until 11 p.m., Sunday through Thursday, Dr. Leland Jackson, assistant vice president for academic administration, announced this week.

According to Jackson, the funds necessary to make the extension were acquired by "transferring funds from other accounts."

The planet Saturn will be in a good position for viewing at the sky-observing session on the ground of the Central Florida Museum and Planetarium next Friday at 9:15 p.m.

Six FTU Delegates Attend Model Senate

A delegation of six FTU students are attending the Model U.S. Senate today at Stetson University in DeLand.

The model senate, which was planned initially by two Stetson students, Sandy McLelland and John Frasier, has received national attention as "being the only place going into an election year where there can be found a collection of students representing a cross section of the newly enfranchised 18-to-21-year-old," according to Miss McLelland.

According to assistant professor of political science Dr. William H. Jervey, the FTU delegation was chosen "originally from members of my 'Congressional and Legislative Process' class. Four were chosen from this class," said Jervey, "but since that time it has become a university wide project and a total of six students are attending the session."

The students, each of them representing or actually playing the part of a U.S. Senator, have spent some two to three months investigating the background of their respective senators, Jervey said. "The students have researched the Congressional Record, the Congressional Quarterly and in many cases wrote to their senator and received answers in the form of volumes of information," said Jervey.

The Model Senate session which began yesterday is intended to duplicate as closely as possible all the functions of the real U.S. Senate. Meetings will include caucuses, committee meetings and general Senate sessions.

Senator Edward Gurney, who is portrayed by FTU student Robert Seidl, is slated to speak today at noon. Other speakers will include Governor Reubin Askew, tomorrow at noon, Senator Lawton Chiles tomorrow at 6 p.m., and a yet-unnamed speaker in the place of the recently deceased former Senator Spessard Holland Sunday at noon.

According to Miss McLelland, "a group of relevant and controversial bills including the Hatfield amendment have been chosen for the 'Student Senators' to debate and vote on. Students will have the opportunity to debate and argue their issues on the floor of the mock senate, an atmosphere which will greatly increase the reality of the sessions."

"Our students attending the senate were given a list of available senators to choose to represent," said Jervey. "By no means did they choose senators whose viewpoints they agreed with."

FTU students and the senators they are representing are Robert Seidl, representing Gurney; Bill Castellano, representing Lawton Chiles; Grafton N. Carlson, representing J. L. McClellan, D-Ark.

Also Harry Barnes, representing Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va.; Martha Swann, representing William Fulbright, D-Ark., and Denis Noah, representing Robert Byrd, D-W.Va.

Satiric Documentary on Nixon

FuTure's Friday Girl

African Art Show Debuts

By Grace Kehrer

In the spring and summer of this year a schedule of exhibits for the FTU library lobby was organized. This schedule proposed that during the first two weeks of November, FTU would host a display of Mark Lynch's sculptures. When Lynch was unable to "go on," a relative unknown, an understudy was called forth from the wings. In the best tradition of the theatre, i.e., "...the show must go on..." the unknown was revealed to be FTU's director of instructional media, Dick Cornell.

Cornell calls his exhibit an "interim presentation" consisting of "everything from the walls of my home." By way of background information, Cornell explained that the display—all contemporary places from East Africa—were collected on a field trip he and 11 other men made which was sponsored by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, the Agency for International Development and the U.S. Office of Education. The purpose of the trip was to gather first hand information about East Africa and then assemble written and audio-visual materials for possible development of a curriculum of study on East Africa for classroom use. Although Cornell readily admits that it is impossible to capture the essence of East Africa on a six-week field trip or do justice to her cultures, at least a teacher has access to factual information that, until now, was not available to any teacher.

A brief listing of the items on display consists of a number of coins, ancient and modern, shields made of water buffalo skin, beads from the Masi tribe and a typical tourist spear. The ebony wood carving was made by a blind craftsman from a tribe of blind craftsman in Tanganyika. The hand-painted wall hanging from Ethiopia tells the tale of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. The animal skins are from a deer and a monkey. The photos taken by Cornell are self explanatory. In all, the exhibit is an interesting and informative one. And the act that began as a substitute ends as a distinct star in its own right.

Nixon Satire Set For SCAUD

The Florida premiere of "Millhouse: A White Comedy," a satire of American politics using President Richard Nixon as a symbol, will be shown at the Science Auditorium Monday.

Shakespeare Troup To Appear At VC

"The World of Shakespeare's Comedies" is coming to FTU Tuesday, presented by the South Carolina Theatre Company.

The program is a collection of scenes, songs and soliloquies from every comedy by the English playwright, and has been adapted for stage by the founder-producer of the South Carolina Theatre Company Milton Dickson.

The Company is in its seventh year as the only professional repertory theatre in South Carolina, and is one of the few self-supporting professional theatres in the U. S.

The troupe will appear on the VC green at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

shown at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m.

De Antonio is an American film maker who has also released such commercial films as "Point of Order," about the Army-McCarthy hearings of the mid-1950s, "Rush to Judgment," about the Warren Commission's investigation of President Kennedy's assassination, "America is Hard to See," about Eugene McCarthy's campaign, and "In the Year of the Pig," about the U. S. in Vietnam.

"Millhouse" traces Nixon's political development from the "Checkers" speech to the "You-won't-have-Nixon-to-kick-around" press conference to scenes of the President watching go-go dancers.

The film does show de Antonio's person anger at "Nixon and what he represents," but de Antonio has said, "If all this movie does is to pander to your Nixon prejudices, then the movie is a failure. . . This is not a personal attack on Nixon, but Nixon at this point does stand for everything I oppose: the war, American imperialism everywhere, racism in domestic politics."

To show how traditional American politics is so dependent upon dirty dealings and hypocrisy, he links Nixon and other politicians with sequences involving John F. Kennedy, Joe McCarthy, Lyndon Johnson and others.

"I didn't make this film to elect Democrats," de Antonio told a San Francisco writer. "I made it to reveal the terrible comic theatre that is American politics."

Parking Planned For Hum. Bldg.

A parking lot which will contain 850 parking spaces is being considered for the Humanities Building, which is a portion of FTU's Phase II of construction.

This would bring to about 2,250 the number of paved parking places on campus.

"The Department of Transportation is holding up the bids," said James Schroeder of Physical Plant when he explained that FTU may not have the proposed parking lot.

The proposed lot consists of five individual lots northwest of the Humanities Building site, and the entrance would tie in with the present road system.

FuTure FINAL ISSUES

The November 19 issue of the FuTure, will be the last before Thanksgiving. The issue after that will come out December 3, and will be the last of the quarter. Any announcements or notices for events occurring before December 3 must be submitted to the FuTure office before noon Tuesday, Nov. 16.

ENROLLMENT

FTU's enrollment has hit an all-time high this quarter, with a total of 6,137 students - 5,551 undergraduates and 587 postgraduates.

Being A Full-Time College Student Costs, Many Must Work To Pay Their Way

By John Gholdston

Being a full-time college student today is an expensive proposition, and for those enrolled at FTU this statement is no exception. With tuition costs up to $190 per quarter, books to buy, and living and transportation costs, it becomes very easy for the average student to part with well over $2,000 a year, without any frills or unnecessary expenses.

Many families cannot manage the rocketing costs and still meet other expenses. The result: many students are forced to support themselves as much as possible, "which means like get a job," to quote from "West Side Story."

So, while many students get whatever jobs are available, busing tables, washing dishes, janitorial work or similar tasks - others are able to work at jobs which more closely utilize their talents.

One of the latter is senior Chris Schmidt, who is working full-time for WDBO television news, and plans to continue on a full-time basis after graduation this December. "I've been in broadcasting for several years," said Chris, "and it's what I like to do."

WDBO radio employs another student, Ron Page, to work as the behind-the-scenes man on the new Tom Marshall talk show. Scott Clarke, station manager of WFTU radio, works off-campus in the production department of WESH-TV, working with video tape, doing camera work and floor directing. And there is Steve Jones, another communications major, who fills his weekends as a floor cameraman at Orlando's WFTV.

Over at radio station WKIS, FTU students include Jim Gantner, producer and coordinator for the Gene Burns Program P.M. and other 740 evening programs and Bill Bailey and Pat Flynn, both members of the news department at the NBC affiliate.

The long summer days are never long enough for Bob Pohlard, a junior and botany major. This young Winter Park student has made the most of every summer day for four successive summers doing research work in the fields and labs of the Department of Agriculture.

TODAY newspaper in Cocoa employs student Bill Day as one of its three editorial cartoonists. Bill, a junior who is majoring in art and political science, finds the job an excellent way to hone his talent and knowledge.

FTU has a program of financial assistance for deserving students, through the Office of Student Affairs. Eileen Brennan, a German major, and Beth Reichwald, a Spanish major, are student assistants in the department of foreign languages. This gives them an opportunity to be exposed to all facets of the department, including the language laboratory, while earning extra money. Students are employed in this fashion by nearly every department on campus.

With more than 6,000 enrolled, it is safe to assume that several thousand are employed in some way to ease the financial strain. The handful of students above represents merely a cross-section of young people filling the dual role of student/worker.

'Rap With Experts' To Be At ENAUD

"Come Rap With the Experts," the third in a career information series sponsored by the Placement Center and the Developmental Center, will be held Tuesday at 11 a.m. in the Engineering Auditorium.

Guests at the question and answer session will be representatives from areas in social sciences: Dr. Werner Metz, director of mental hygiene in Seminole County; Wayne Strickland, psychiatric social worker from Florida Hospital; Robert Ball of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and Charles Tyson, Kissimmee city manager.

According to John Philip Goree, 200-250 students.

vice president for business affairs, the economic impact by 1980 of the FTU campus will exceed a payroll of $30 million and a student body of 25,000.

"There will be $75 million worth of buildings on campus, 3,500 staff and faculty members, 2,100 research and instructional personnel," he said.

Also according to the Sentinel, research specialists say that FTU will require the support of at least 12,630 persons to provide needed goods and services. Including families, this means that FTU will add about 35,000 persons to Orlando metropolitan populations.

The community will require 10,322 dwelling units and 367,300 square feet of commercial and retail space. There will be a total of 7,800 jobs generated either directly or indirectly which will pay wages and salaries in the neighborhood of $56,400,000.

The Orange County Planning Commission will coordinate the numerous construction units through a recently approved new zoning designation called Planned Development (PD). According to a Commission spokesman, the PD concept will require developers to file a complete plan of their proposed area.

The original zoning of the area will remain unchanged until a given plan is filed and approval for a zoning change is given by the Commission.

Unlike other zoning designations, the PD will allow pending approval by the Commission on almost any combination of residential and commercial zoning. No additions or changes in the plan can be made without further approval.

Care will be taken, according to some developers, not just to meet the needs of housing, but to meet these needs without upsetting the ecology of the region. All factors considered, the FTU area is "expected to be the nucleus of a community of approximately 35,000 persons by 1988," according to the Sentinel.

In addition to three planned communities, five other construction projects have been revealed. The eight are:

*University Hylands - in addition to the 53 already operating units, 62 more are scheduled for completion by January. These will house between

*University Park - 423 acres at the intersection of FTU Boulevard and Alafaya Trail. Phase One will include efficiencies and one, two and three bedroom apartments. Future plans call for patio houses, single family homes and townhouses.

*Pegasus Place - located north of FTU between Florida Tech Boulevard and Rouse Road. It includes 160 acres, with 80 for mobile homes, 55 for apartments, 20 for patio houses and five for commercial interests.

*A 400-apartment complex with construction set to begin in 1972 on 1,100 acres southeast of FTU. The land is owned by Florentes, Inc., a Detroit-based development company.

*University Village - located two and one-half miles north of FTU. Housing accommodations for less than $100 per month are planned and apartments will be one-story, based on a 20' by 40' prefabricated section.

Assistant Dean of the College of Business Administration Franklin Hitt has conducted a feasibility study on this area for a private group of individuals.

*ACH, INC., has purchased 380 acres southeast of FTU on the Big Econ River and plans includes a mobile home-golf course combination.

*A 40-acre mobile home park is presently under construction, located State Road 420, east of Bonnevill Road and south of Highway 50.

*Stanley I. Meadows and Son Development Corporation will build a 30 quadruplex units in Ridgeway University Village on Sharon Place south of Oviedo. Units will be sold to private investors for management and will be ready by fall 1972.

CAN COLLECTION

A section of Dr. Martin Wanielista's Engineering 488 class is collecting aluminum cans as part of a project for the class. The group has placed a container near the elevators on the second floor of the library.

All students who would like to assist with this ecology project are asked to put their empty aluminum cans in this container.

RETRO Trainees Work For Ecology

Former aerospace scientists and engineers enrolled in FTU's RETRO program are working to contribute their decades of experience and technical knowledge to help solve environmental problems.

They have applied their knowledge in a number of studies designed to speed flows of persons, communications and even garbage.

much to contribute toward the solution of those everyday problems that plague us all."

Studies are now being conducted of patient flow in the emergency room of Florida Hospital. After collecting necessary facts, the students will design various "models" using computers, which will attempt to trim any extraneous procedures that tend to reduce the admission-to-treatment cycle.

The Florida Hospital project is just one of several. Other students are involved in studies of the Orlando solid waste disposal operation, the courts system in Brevard County and a revamping Orlando's public safety communications system that would put the police and fire departments and ambulance services on a single radio frequency.

The one-time aerospace workers are preparing themselves for their new careers by "going out and doing," according to their instructor, Dr. Robert D. Doering, associate professor of industrial engineering.

"We like to think of engineering as much more than a technical science wrapped in a cloak of diagrams and formulas," said Doering. "Today's engineering has

When they complete their year-long course in June, RETRO students will be awarded Master's degrees in environmental systems management.

All of the current projects will be completed in December. Results will be published soon after, according to Doering.

As part of VW's continuing policy of doing away with the unnecessary we've done away with the clutch pedal.

It's unnecessary because our Fastback and Squareback Sedans now have an optional fully automatic transmission.

With 3 forward speeds. And fewer moving parts than any 3-speed automatic anywhere.

No carburetor and no radiator, of course, are still standard on both models.

Art Dept. Members Return From Abroad

Three faculty members from the art department spent the summer months working abroad. Sculptor Johann Eyfells, spent two months in his native Iceland where he supervised the design and installation of a monumental cast stone sculpture, purchased by the capital of Iceland, Reykjavik. This acquisition is now displayed in front of Iceland's National Museum of Art.

Eyfells was also involved in preliminary location design and foundation construction for a major commissioned piece to be executed at a popular summer ski resort in the mountainous interior of Iceland.

Dr. Walter Gaudnek, art historian and painter, traveled widely in Europe working on research primarily in his native Germany. He received a commission from the city of Cologne to design a cover for a publication by the City Bureau of Cultural and Industrial Life. He visited numerous museums and galleries, artist studios and art academies (including special experimental summer camp for creative teenagers.)

He also held conferences with educators, scholars and administrators and was invited to address a faculty committee at the Academic der Bildenden Kuenste in Munich.

As a result of these visits, he has been invited to prepare exhibitions to be held in Munich and Ingolstadt and to work on a proposal for an international talent exchange. He also received an invitation to write the text for a new Mass to have its first presentation in Cologne.

Steven Lotz, acting art chairman, and his family spent the summer on their property in the village of Panajachel, Guatemala. Lotz executed numerous drawings and a large cruciform painting, measuring 20 feet high and 18 feet wide. During the summer, Lotz also made a study tour of the ancient, ruined Mayan city of Tikal, in the Petan region of Guatemala.

Teachers' Exams Offered At FTU

FTU seniors majoring in Education may take the National Teacher Examinations on any of four dates. They are November 13, 1971 and January 29, April 8 and July 15, 1972. The test is given by the Educational Testing Service and will be administered at nearly 500 locations in the United States this year.

Prospective teachers should contact the school systems in which they seek employment or their colleges for specific information on which examinations to take. On each full day of testing, prospective teachers may take the Common Examination which measures professional preparation and general education background and a Teaching Area Examination which measures mastery of the subject they intend to teach.

Results of the National Teacher Examinations are used by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers and by several states for certification or licensing of teachers.

Donald A. Fuller will join the Business Administration faculty in January as an assistant professor. He has been serving as an instructor at Georgia State University and as assistant guidance director for the school of business. In addition to teaching positions, he also has been a marketing research analyst with Lockheed-Georgia Corporation.

A 1940 graduate of Orlando High School, Edwin A. Wood, is an assistant professor of business administration. He now is completing work on his doctorate at the University of Florida. After his retirement, he was an instructor in accounting at the University of Florida for two years.

Assistant professor of business administration John F. Bussman joins the FTU faculty from Florida State University where he is a candidate for the D.B.A. in accounting. He has wide experience in public and private accounting.

Miss Marilyn Faye Busch, a certified Public Accountant who was a visiting instructor in accounting last year, has also joined the faculty. The native Missourian, now living in Winter Park formerly was employed by Price, Waterhouse and Co. in Miami and Orlando as a member of the audit staff.

Another new faculty member and instructor in accounting is Miss Kathleen R. Johnson, an honors graduate from Orlando Junior College and Rollins College. She formerly taught from 1966 to 1970 at the College of Orlando.

Returning to FTU after a year's leave of absence is Dr. R. Thomas Stone Jr. instructor in business administration, who has just completed course work towards his doctorate in public law and administration at the University of Tennessee. While on campus in 1969-70, he was voted "Best Professor of the College Business Administration." Last year, he was a lecturer in business law at the University of Tennessee.

Jackson L. Winchester, lecturer in business administration and coordinator of the graduate program in business administration, has been an adjunct instructor in business administration and political science at FTU. Prior to joining the faculty, Winchester served with the U.S. Air Force. While on active duty, he attended a number of professional schools which included Command and Staff College and Air War College.

Foreign Club Established By Kassim

Dr. Husain Kassim, assistant professor of humanities, has scheduled for next Friday the first meeting of a new and unique organization for foreign students at FTU.

Kassim said the organization would be directed by the Foreign Student Affairs to help foreign students smooth out some of their problems, ranging from registration to graduation and everything in between. The organization will also try to have foreign students placed with American families as guests. Kassim said that "this could be beneficial to both the foreign students and the American families they stay with."

"Another purpose of the group will be to have festivities and dances and other cultural activities of different nations of the world so that we may learn more about the cultures of various nations," Kassim added.

The officers of the organization will be persons from different areas of the world, and all American students are eligible for membership.

The organization will be made up of persons from different areas of the world, and all American students are eligible for membership.

Almost 100 foreign students are enrolled at FTU.

The first meeting of the organization will be next Friday at 7:30 p.m. in LR 233. All foreign students are expected to attend the meeting and may contact Kassim at 275-2273. Election of officers will be held at the meeting.

Bazaar - Auction Dates Moved Up

Dates have been changed for the Bazaar and Art Auction sponsored by the Village Center and the College of Education.

The sale and auction of art objects created by FTU faculty and staff will be November 30 and December 1. This is one day earlier than originally scheduled.

Creations to be sold should be brought to the Village Center by November 29, and the art work may be sold at a set price or auctioned to the highest bidder. The sellers may decide to keep the whole profit or donate one quarter of the sale price to the FTU Foundation, which is matching each $1 donation with $9.

Wanda Russell, VC program director, and Linda Eastman, assistant program director, said they urge students, faculty and staff to begin their crafts now. They also say that the auction and sale are ways persons may buy interesting and individual gifts for the coming Christmas season.

Also, Kappa Sigs thank the little sisters for the post-game meal they prepared.

KS would like to congratulate the pledges for their slick performance Saturday night which went off like a well-oiled machine. ΖΤΑ

The Zetas held a picnic social for the brothers and pledges of Pike Fraternity last Sunday at Wekiwa Springs Park. Football, canoeing and lunch filled the afternoon's activities.

Zetas got together with alumnae last night for a "mock" rush at the home of pledge trainer Carol Wooldridge. The girls practiced songs and the rotation system at the rush practice.

ZTA sister Martha Swann is spending the weekend at Stetson University in DeLand this weekend where she is participating in the Model U.S. Senate. Miss Swann is portraying Senator J. William Fulbright of Arkansas at the weekend activity.

FTU-TV IS Brainchild Under Construction

By Ann Sperring

Anytime you try to build a brainchild it's rough. There are problems, frustrations and hassles of a general nature. Scott Clark knows about brainchildren and problems. His adopted prodigy, WFTU-TV, is having its problems. But even with the technical setbacks besetting him, Clark foresees a great potential for the station.

"We aren't a 'toy' as people often refer to us. We are a very real and concerned organization, and are trying to impress upon the student the many services we can offer," said Clark.

Among the services was a day-long coverage of the recent Student Government elections. More than 75 students worked on presenting the coverage, which included interviews with candidates, President Charles Millican and a "mystery guest" featuring assistant professor James Couch demonstrating the fine points of Japanese cuisine. Most of the show was done live, and Clark reports he "was very pleased with the production."

Scheduled for upcoming presentation is a half-hour news show, done weekly, to focus on student news. Focus 4, the new feature in the making, will be a student-oriented program in order to stimulate interest in student affairs. In the same vein, WFTU-TV will also present a Student Government report.

"We want to establish an open line of communication for the students. We have great potential, and we are trying very hard to put this to work for the students. I have some hard-working people really trying to get a good thing going, but each new person can contribute," Clark said.

Brainchildren don't come easy. Clark is finding that out each minute he works on this project. But many grow up into full-fledged productions, and this is what WFTU-TV is trying to do.

BIOLOGY CLUB

The FTU Biology Club, in connection with the Chemistry Club, has succeeded in gaining approval for a lounge area in the Science Building. The club wishes to thank all persons, both administrative personnel and students who have helped achieve this goal. A lounge area is badly needed and all science students are thankful for finally having a place to sit down!

A meeting will be held Tuesday at 11 a.m. in SC 335. All students are invited; club members always like to see new faces.

CIRCLE K

After attending the recent State Social Issues Conference, Circle K is ready to set out on its goals of involving the student in campus activities.

A campus-wide poll is scheduled during preregistration next week. This is a chance for all students to have their say in governing the action of student organizations in future quarters. All results will be available to any campus organization upon request. Student Government will assist in making this as effective as possible and is concerned about the results.

Circle K is an organization that is involved in all phases of its environment: social, political, ecological, etc. The persons it seeks as members are those who believe in themselves and care about others.

Meetings are held 11 a.m. Tuesdays in AD 225. All students are invited.

PHI BETA LAMBDA

On Saturday, Oct. 30, Phi Beta Lambda held a District III Officers Workshop on campus. Meetings were held in the General Classroom Building to discuss the state officers workshop. Approximately 60 students and their advisors attended.

The District III chapters of PBL who attended were FTU and Lake Sumter Junior College. State parliamentarian for FBLA, Vicky Johnson; District III FBLA advisor, Mrs. Ruth Pryor, and District III vice president for FBLA, Martha Chapman also attended. Jane Beninate, District III vice-president for PBL, presided over the meeting.

Coffee and doughnuts were served for breakfast, and lunch was held in the cafeteria.

Free Day Sought By SG Resolution

A resolution to exempt students from classes on all or part of election days was scheduled to be introduced at yesterday's Student Government meeting.

The resolution points out that in view of the fact that citizens who have reached the age of 18 are allowed to vote, students should have the opportunity to vote without having the problem of class conflicts.

"I got the idea from a similar action proposed at the University of Nebraska in Omaha," said sponsor of the bill Senator Mike Strandberg.

"This will give resident students the opportunity to get off campus and vote. It will also benefit commuter students, especially those who must vote in other counties," added Strandberg.

Strandberg said that he has talked to a few students and senators and feels that opinion is divided about equally on the bill.

Soccer Given Go-Ahead

Leo Game Raises Spirit

By John Gordon

The FTU soccer Club has decided to continue its season of games into the winter quarter due to the good turnout at last Friday's meeting and at last Saturday's meet against St. Leo College.

Four students have joined the team since that meeting, meaning that now player substitutions can be made during a game without fear of risking a goal.

Although FTU lost to St. Leo by a score of 4-2, Team Captain Bob Steadman felt sure his Soccer Knights would have captured their first victory if there were more officiating referees to catch fouls "deliberately aimed at FTU."

"At the end of the first half, we were winning 2-0," Steadman said, "but, at the beginning of the third quarter we lost three good men due to intentional fouling by St. Leo players."

According to Steadman, goalie Rudy Zereldo was roughly kicked in the head while trying to block a kick. This incident put him out of "This is the first time I have ever seen our group of players work together as a team," Steadman said. "I feel that if we continue playing the way we did against St. Leo, we will have a very successful winter season."

This Tuesday the FTU Soccer Knights battle Shelton College at 3:30 p.m. on the football field. An action-packed game is promised by Steadman and his team. All students are invited to attend this game.

Wrestlers Enter Fort Myers Meet

The FTU grapplers will enter their first wrestling tournament this Saturday at 11 a.m. in Fort Myers. The AAU-sponsored meet will be held at the Fort Myers YMCA and is open to all high school and college wrestlers.

Twenty Tech grapplers will leave the campus at 6 p.m. to represent FTU in the 122, 129, 135, 141, 148, 158, 170 and 188 pound classes, including all heavy weight divisions. Included in these 20 are John Rouse and Charlie Patten, last year's first and third place state champs, consecutively.

Although the matches will be ruled by stricter AAU regulations, Wrestling Coach Jerry Gergley said he feels that his squad of men are together this year and will have no trouble placing high in this meet.

SOCCER CONTINUES SCHEDULE -- Soccer will remain as one of FTU's intercollegiate sports, due to a good response to the team's call for more players. In this shot, FTU halfback Robert Magnusson drives the ball past a St. Leo player and heads toward the FTU goal. (Photo by Ike Spinos)

ATO Wins Football Playoffs

By BROADWAY BEAR

ATO became the football champions by defeating last year's defending champions, the Bombers, 21-0 in the semi-final, and then defeating the Faculty-Staff 41-31 in the final playoff game of the season.

In the Bomber game, ATO quarterback Marc Stockwell passed for three TDs, two of them to Mark Faller, one a 35-yarder and one a five-yarder. Mike MacIntyre caught the other TD pass, another nifty reception by the guard. Mike Abufaris caught two extra points, and John Speer caught the other one.

While Stockwell and Faller led the offense, the defense was led by former Edgewater High standout Greg Gavel, who completed a day's work with three interceptions. A fantastic rush by Steve Arcidiacono (Archie) kept continuous pressure on Bomber passer Jerry Webb. In a losing cause Webb played well, intercepting a pass on the one-yard line, stopping the first ATO drive.

the game with near-concussion injuries. Two other players were put out of play with swollen ankles and leg injuries when they were tripped while trying to make goals.

Steadman said all team members felt confident that they could have beaten St. Leo last Saturday if the meet could have been more carefully supervised.

Georgia Victory Upsets Sports Seer

By LARRY McCORKLE

Okay, you can say it. I was very wrong about last week's prediction of the Georgia-Florida game. Quite wrong.

All day Friday, people who talked to me sooner or later came out with a statement similar to, "You must have been drunk when you made your predictions."

To be honest, I probably predicted with my heart, not with my head. I just feel that sooner or later all my talent is bound to explode - although I was notified that the explosion probably already occurred during the Maryland game.

Florida was supposed to be a senior-led team. If those seniors don't hurry up they just might lead the Gators to the SEC cellar. As sophomores, these group of seniors recorded a 9-1-1 slate including a 14-13 edge-of-the-seater in the Gator Bowl over Tennessee. The following year a poor offensive line was blamed for the gators 7-4 season - a great disappointment for most Florida fans.

And now this. Florida will be lucky to come out of the season with a 3-8 record. The reason - there's plenty of them. You could write a book about the misfortunes of Doug Dickey.

It is quite obvious that the Gators are not playing inspired football like the Gators of 1969. Why not? That my friend, is for us to speculate and for Doug Dickey to find out.

Last week's showing (ugh) didn't help.

This week's games:

Florida 21, Kentucky 13

This score could go either way, but once again I'm picking with my heart instead of my head.

Georgia 24, Auburn 22

Georgia did not play good ball against Florida despite winning 49-7. The offensive line of the Bulldogs, however, demolished the Florida line, and will do more of the same against Auburn. Georgia's running attack will control the game, preventing Auburn's Pat Sullivan and Terry Beasley from scoring enough to win.

Alabama 21, Miami 13

Banged up Alabama will not win by that much. Hoever "Bear" Bryant will be able to recuperate his big guns enough to beat the Hurricanes and still have enough left to take on Auburn. Look for a tough Miami defense and a strong ground game to give the Crimson tide a scare though.

Florida State 34, Georgia Tech 17

Florida State desperately needs this game if it hopes to play in any bowl game. Quarterback Gary Huff and able receivers such as Kent Gaydos, Barry Smith and Rhett Dawson will score the points, while the Seminoles' rubber band defense will contain Tech quarterback Eddie McAshan.

Spotlight On Sports

This week's sports spotlight shines on Mike LaLone and Dale Olson. Returning to the FTU basketball squad is senior Mike LaLone. He is a 5'11" tall guard-forward for the team and weighs 189 pounds. LaLone lives in Orlando.

Freshman wrestling star Dale Olson comes to FTU as a 1970 graduate of Aurora High School in Cleveland, Ohio. During his years at Aurora High, Olson placed third in sectional wrestling and first in the district tournaments. The 158 pound natural science major is 19 years old and is 5'10" tall.

and Faculty, was a wild scoring affair, with both teams scoring at will. ATO outscored the faculty, and won it all by a convincing 41-31 score, and left no doubt as to who is the football king this year. ATO who led 27-19 at the half, scored their first half points on four TD passes thrown by outstanding signal caller Marc Stockwell. Greg Gavel caught two of them, one for 14 yards and other for 25. Mike Abufaris caught another TD pass from 25 yards out, and John Speer caught Stockwell's other first-half TD pass, on a ten-yard effort. Extra points were scored by Faller, who scored two, and by Mark Meyers, who scored one.

Fac-Staff scored their 19 points in the first half, on an eight-yard pass from Walter Shinn to Ray Brownlee, after Shinn took a pitch from John Davis. The extra point failed. The next Faculty score was on a neat five-yard scamper by Shinn, who also scored the conversion, on a fantastic diving catch of a Davis pass. The Faculty's last first-half score came on a pass from Davis to fleet receiver Ken Renner, but the point after failed, making the score 27-19 at the half. In the second half ATO scored first on a tremendous 21-yard TD pass from Stockwell to speedy Abufaris (ABU), and the same duo hooked up for the extra point. Fac-Staff came right back with a spectacular 40-yard pass from Davis to Brownlee, but again the important conversion failed. Stockwell then hit Abufaris, with an eye-catching 40-yard bomb, as ATO bounced back and Meyers made the conversion.

Ye Ole FuTure HORRISCOPE

By John the Good, Resident Seer

For Friday, November 12, 1971

IF YOU WERE BORN TODAY:

You're not alone. So were several other people. Hiva Pangrass, Fizzle Hingbage and Ivan Looze, to name a few. In that respect you're not alone. There are others. You are unique, however, in many other respects, like your extra eye, and your amazingly weak mind.

AQUARIUS:

Your days are numbered as the hairs on your head. Do not feel too secure, however; your hairs are about to desert your cranium, which will quickly begin to limit your days. Vision in your left eye will begin to fade by noon, and your fingernails will begin to gain color. Bad signs. Bad vibes.

PISCES:

Don't pool all your money in one spot. Invest wisely and buy blue chip, while we still have the bull with us. Sell any life insurance. It's not going to give you any benefit after you're dead, and it would be a neat way to get back at your "loved ones." Prepare yourself for the unexpected. If it can happen, it will.

ARIES:

As far as I'm concerned, you can carry on the way you have been for the rest of your life, but I happen to know that your great aunt is extremely vexed with your behaviour and is threatening to cut you out of her will. That would mean that you would have no legitimate income after you're 30. You could stay as you are and become a street-walker by profession, but the neighbors would talk then.

GEMINI:

Dance! You have much to rejoice about. Tonight is the night you have been planning on for several months. All should work out well, and go just as you planned. The only problem is he will stand you up, and you will have to go through the entire evening alone. Tough break.

CANCER:

Who do you think you are, anyways? You go prancing around here like you own the place. We all know who your family tree really is. Not only do we know, but we have decided to not speak to you any more. We don't like you or your grandmother. Put your arm down, it's getting heady in here. Clod.

LEO: The problem with you is that you don't think before you speak. You, in fact, don't think while you're speaking. Come to think of it, you don't think after you speak. You seldom stop speaking. Plato said that the wise man listens, but I say the wise man should temper his listening, and ignore you completely.

VIRGO:

Merging eyebrows could be fatal to you this week. If you notice your eyebrows slowly coming together, trim them quickly and take a bath in Clorox. Did you know your eyes are really red, and your mother painted the color in when you were two? That's why there are no color photographs of you when you were little. Hadn't you ever wondered?

TAURUS:

Exercise great caution. The man next to you is an imposter. He is really a giant frog, part of the subversive organization GFUTCTW (Giant Frogs United To Conquer The World), and plans to disrupt the entire school. That song he is humming is "We will overcome," frog style. (Where would all the warts be, if it wasn't for us frogs? What could the children play with, if not for us and dogs? We will overcome, we will overcome, how can we the master warts, help but undercome?)

LIBRA:

I suggest that you consult the psychic powers that rule the dimensional inner space. Therein lies the truth of all the universe, and the answers to the Chem test next week. You won't pass anyway, and it might make an interesting excuse to the prof as to why you flunked. It's a thought.

SCORPIO:

I see by your dress that you are short. If you were taller, your dress would surely contain more material. Let me tell you, quickly, and briefly, if you're not selling, don't advertise. Modesty is its own virtue.

SAGITTARIUS:

"Write a good one," they tell me. "You're always picking on Sagittarius," they tell me. So this week I ignore the stars, and write a nice one. A lie, mind you, but a nice one, nevertheless. You will meet a tall, dark stranger, fall in love, and run away to Afghanistan, where you will live for the rest of your unnatural life. He will die on the trip over, however, and you will be stuck with the kids (I'm sorry, no matter how hard I try, it still doesn't sound too complimentary.)

CAPRICORN:

I see ill winds torboding disaster. I see you failing three of the four finals. I see A.P. (academic probation, for the freshmen). I see expulsion. I see the draft. I see a pregnancy. Whoo, boy, are you in for it.
